

800 Enrollment Is Goal For Y

Doubling the membership of the Y is the goal of the joint YM-YWCA membership drive which begins Monday and extends through Wednesday. Miss Barbara Hall, executive secretary of the YWCA, said the combined groups now have a membership of almost 400 students.

Booths will be set up outside the SUB and in the University Station post office. Students may obtain application blanks at these booths.

Freshmen may sign up at the designated booth for the Freshman Club, an affiliate of the Y, which holds separate meetings each week. By December these students become regular Association members.

Requirements Of Groups Listed

To become a member of the YWCA a student must sign the application card, indicating whether she desires to be an active or associate member. With the pledge of $1.00 she acquires membership in the Association.

The YMCA specifies that a prospective member sign the application card, attend three meetings, and make a money contribution in order to join the association.

Officers in the YWCA include Ruth Ann Maggard, president; Ann Williams, vice president; Polly Boteler, secretary; Evelyn Baker, treasurer; and Myra Hensley, campaign manager. The executive secretary is Miss Barbara Hall.

John Proffitt Heads YMCA
With Bart Peak as director of the YMCA, the officers are John Proffitt, president; Henry Durham, vice president; John Brannon, secretary; Reed Holland, treasurer; Jim Anders, publicity chairman, and Norval Copeland, campaign chairman.

The YMCA, organized at the University in 1890, and the YWCA, established shortly after 1900, have enlarged with the growth of UK. Now it has branched out to include students, faculty, and townspeople on its advisory board.

Some of the projects sponsored by the Y during the year are Freshmen camp before school, college night, and the street dance held during orientation week, the Inter-faith council, World Student Service Fund on campus, Religious Emphasis Week, and Christmas and Thanksgiving Services.

Col. C. N. Mount Named New Head Of UK Military Science Department

Col. Charles N. Mount, a veteran of the Korean War, has taken over his duties as professor of military science and tactics at the University. He succeeds Col. G. T. MacKenzie as head of the Department of Military Science and Tactics.

Col. Mount returned to the States last July after 10 months of Korean service with the thirty-second regiment of the Seventh Infantry Division. Assigned to the UK post several weeks ago, he took over his new duties Monday.

As battalion commander, regimental executive officer, and finally, regimental commander, Col. Mount participated in the Inchon landing of last fall, the first Allied recapture of Seoul, the drive to the Yalu River, the withdrawal from the Hungnam-Hashung perimeter, and the "killer offensives" of spring and early summer.

Americans Have High Morale
In an interview Wednesday, Col. Mount said, "The outstanding characteristic of the American combat soldier is his superb morale in the face of adverse conditions. Persons who have never been in Korea can have no conception of the difficulties encountered by our troops as a result of the weather, terrain, and fanaticism of the enemy. But throughout it all, the American soldier maintains his high morale and his willingness to continue the struggle."

The chief problems of a field commander in Korea are supply evacuation, and of these two the problem of evacuation is foremost. In some places where the fighting is fierce and the terrain rugged, it was almost impossible to evacuate the wounded for 20, or even 24 hours, the Colonel said. Increasing use of helicopters in evacuation of casualties is providing a partial solution to the problem.

Following the recapture of Seoul last Autumn and the Seventh Division's subsequent landing on the northeast coast of Korea, the battalion headed by Col. Mount had advanced to within 20 miles of the Yalu River when the Chinese entered the war and forced the bitter Allied withdrawal of last winter.

Graduate of West Point
Mount is a native of Georgia and was graduated from the U. S. Military Academy in 1939. After his West Point graduation, he spent three years at the Army's Infantry school, Ft. Benning, Ga., and while there was promoted to captain.

He was then assigned to Third Corps Headquarters in Atlanta, promoted to major in November, 1942, and the following summer sent to Sicily to observe amphibious operations. From September 1943 to August 1945, Col. Mount was attached to Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Forces, where he served in a liaison capacity between SHAEF and the various army groups in the European theater. He was promoted to lieutenant colonel in October 1943.

Col. Mount was instructor of tactics at West Point for three years following his return to the states in 1945. He was assigned to the 32nd Infantry, then at Honshu, Japan, as commander of that regiment's second battalion in the summer of 1949. He led that unit through the Inchon landings and on its later drive through much of North Korea.

Became Commanding Officer
Last March, after serving for a time as the 32nd's executive officer, he was promoted to full colonel and became commanding officer of the regiment. He left Korea July 8 on reassignment to the States.

Col. Mount is holder of the Silver Star, the Legion of Merit, and the Bronze Star.

He was accompanied to Lexington by his wife, a 10-year-old son, and a four-year-old daughter. They will make their home in Lexington while Col. Mount is teaching at the University.

Pep Rally To Be Held Behind SUB

Parade To Start At Men's Dorms, Then Move To Field

A "wreck" representing Georgia Tech's "rambling wrecks" will be burned at the Suky Pep rally at 7 tonight. The rally will be held on the intramural field.

The Marching 100 will perform at 6:30 p.m. at the men's dormitories to begin the rally. After leaving the dorms, the band will parade up Rose to Maxwell, down Maxwell to Lime, and from Lime to the field. Stops will be made at the women's dormitories, and possibly at sorority and fraternity houses along the way, according to Dick Walker, Suky pep rally chairman.

Walker said entertainment would be furnished at the rally.

Seniors Take Notice, A Degree's At Stake

All seniors who expect to complete their requirements for graduation at the close of the first or second semester or the summer term are requested to make application for degrees on Friday or Saturday, October 12 and 13. This applies also to graduate students who expect to complete their requirements for graduate degrees. All applications should be filed in Room 16 of the Administration Building.

As the commencement lists are made from these cards, it is very important to file an application at this time.

Candidates for the bachelor's degree will be charged a graduation fee of $9.00. This will cover the rental of cap and gown, diploma fee, The Kentuckian, and other necessary expenses. Candidates for advanced degrees, other than the doctorate, will be charged a fee of $20.00, which will cover the above, with the exception of The Kentuckian, and in addition the cost of the hood to be presented to the candidate. The fee for the doctorate is $25.00. Graduation fees are payable not later than the fourth day preceding the commencement.

Band Show To Feature New Formation

A new "Football and Kick-off" formation will highlight the first Marching 100 appearance of the year, at half-time of the Kentucky-Georgia Tech game tomorrow. The program will be climaxed by an intricate "Marching Cats" combination, according to Director Warren W. Lutz.

The "Marching Cats" formation was first used at last New Year's Day's Sugar Bowl performance.

Director Lutz's organization will also present a series of "Cog-Wheels," honoring Georgia Tech.

Don and Donna Wilson, last year's baton twirlers with the Marching 100, will again be featured in the half-time performance.

Miss Barbara Baldwin, the new band sponsor, will be presented during the ceremonies. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Lynn K. Wood, UK Chemist, Dies Saturday

Lynn K. Wood, retired research chemist at the University, died Saturday at the Good Samaritan Hospital. He was 36 years old.

Dr. Wood worked in connection with the Agronomy Department of the Agricultural Experiment Station for four years. He retired on July 1.

Previous to his coming to the University, Dr. Wood was soil chemist at Oregon State College. He received his bachelor's degree from Brigham Young University in Utah, and his doctorate from the University of Illinois. He was a native of Provo, Utah.

Dr. Wood was particularly noted for his work on soil potassium as a spectrographer. He has published several papers on methods of spectrographic analysis.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Glenna Decker Wood, and two sons. Burial services will be in Utah.

Sigma Chi Derby To Be Held Oct. 13

The second annual Sigma Chi Derby will be held Saturday, Oct. 13, on the intramural field.

Pledge classes of the various sororities will participate in the Derby. Prizes to be awarded include a cup to the sorority winning the most points in the Derby.

Whitehead To Speak At Dedication Banquet Of Journalism Building

Don Whitehead
Pulitzer Prize Winner

Sen. Thomas Underwood
To Be Toast Master

Johnson, Underwood On Program

Don Whitehead, 1951 Pulitzer Prize winner, and a former UK student, will be the principal speaker at the dedication banquet of the new Journalism-Publications Building. Dr. Niel Plummer, director of the School of Journalism, said this week.

The banquet will be one of the activities of Homecoming, and will be held at 6 p.m. Friday, Nov. 2, in the SUB Ballroom.

An open house at the new building, from 1 to 4:30 p.m., will precede the banquet.

Senator Thomas Underwood, editor of the Lexington Herald, will act as toastmaster at the banquet, and ex-Governor Keen Johnson will introduce Whitehead.

Shropshire Will Present Key
A master key to the Journalism-Publications Building will be presented to President H. L. Donovan by James S. Shropshire, UK journalism graduate, who will represent journalism students and publications workers of the past.

The kernel will publish a special edition for the dedication banquet. Mary Shinnick, journalism senior, will edit the special sections.

Dr. Plummer said invitations are being sent to all journalism graduates and former workers on student publications. About 2500 of these invitations will be mailed, he added. In addition, all newspapermen in this area are being invited.

Tickets Available
Tickets for all University students who wish to attend will be available at the School of Journalism, for $2.00 per plate.

The alumni and active chapters of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, and members of the Henry Watterson Press Club are assisting in making plans for the open house.

Whitehead was one of six recipients of Pulitzer Prize awards for reporting of international affairs. Known in World War II as the reporter who hit more beachheads than any other correspondent, he returned to the battlefronts when war began in Korea.

The Pulitzer Prize Advisory Board singled out his story of the Marines crossing the Han River as an outstanding example of his first hand reporting.

Received Other Awards
For his coverage of the Korean War, Whitehead received two other awards. He was given the Sigma Delta Chi Distinguished Service Award for Foreign Correspondence, "in recognition of his service to the American people and the profession of journalism." He was also awarded Long Island University's annual citation for outstanding wire service reporting.

The dedication banquet will be the climax of what Dr. Donovan, in a recent statement, called, "a success story which is of particular interest to Kentuckians because the entire personnel and the locale involved are centered on the campus of the University."

"It is a story very likely without parallel on any campus in this country—or elsewhere," he continued.

Classes Moved Last Month
Classes were begun in the new building last month. The Kernel also moved its newsroom to the new building at the same time, although the Kernel Press has been in the building since June.

"After moving about for years, we have finally settled in a permanent home—and we certainly are proud of it," Dr. Plummer said.

SGA Discusses Seating Plan For Students

The Student Government Association discussed the possibilities of a new seating arrangement for students at football and basketball games at a meeting in the SUB Monday night.

A plan is being sought that will eliminate the necessity for students to attend the games early in order to get a seat. Two plans for reserved seating were discussed:

1. Students pick up reserved seat tickets a week before the game, first come, first served.

2. Students sit according to classification in a reserved section. Girls would sit in the section that their dates are in.

Series Finished By Radio Arts

The UK Radio Arts Department has completed a series of 13 30-minute programs, entitled "Community Kentucky," made in thirteen Kentucky towns.

Transcribed in cooperation with the Kentucky State Agricultural, Industrial, and Development Board, these programs are based on recordings at Kentucky industries, with talks by prominent persons and short dramatizations of historical significance to these towns.

These transcriptions will be ready for distribution about Nov. 1. They will be supplied free of charge to radio stations within the state that request them. These programs may be either sponsored or unsponsored.

Henderson was the last of the 13 towns to be visited by the recording crew, consisting of Professor E. G. Sulzer, head of the Radio Arts Department and John McGeehan and Tom Skinner, both Radio Arts majors. The other towns visited were Maysville, Carrollton, Owensboro, Central City, Hopkinsville, Glasgow, Campbellsville, Danville, Paintsville, Middlesboro, Hazard, and Irvine-Ravenna.

Army Sponsors Course In Applied Cartography

An urgent need for qualified mapmakers has led the Army Map Service to select UK as one of 22 American colleges and universities in which it is sponsoring a course in applied cartography.

In describing the course, Thomas P. Field, assistant professor of geography, said a person who finishes the course and has a major in geography or the equivalent in a related field would have an excellent chance for employment. At the present time and in the foreseeable future there are limitless opportunities for people with cartography experience, he continued.

Dr. Field described the course as "a beautifully co-ordinated program in which the AMS furnishes all but a small amount of the equipment for the entire course." All expendable materials are supplied by AMS.

Applied cartography deals with the construction and interpretation of maps. The whole objective is to have a person go into the Army Map Service and become a map compiler. The compiler takes minute information, selects the more important items and then assembles them so a draftsman can draw the map.

Although the course was organized to prepare a graduate for work in AMS, there is no insistence that he enter that field.

The AMS prefers women employees and there is considerable opportunity for women in this field. At present there are no women in the class of nine, which is instructed by Dr. Field and his assistant, John Foley.

The class, with a limit of ten students, will be offered again the second semester.

Guignol Keys Given At Award Party

An award party was held Friday night for recipients of Guignol keys. Keys are awarded for at least one season of "distinctive service" in the Guignol Theater.

Students now in the University who received keys were Meg Bailey, Gene Arkle, Dianne McKale, Floyd Cammack, Joe Owens, Dolly Sullivan, John Marlowe, Flo Becksted, Bettie Tuttle, and Arden Milam.

Last Chance To Get I-D Pictures Taken

Students who have not yet had their pictures taken for student identification cards and those who have been notified to appear for retakes must come to a photographic studio set up on the east concourse of Memorial Coliseum between 7:30 and 8:30 tonight.

This will be the last opportunity for any student to have his picture taken for identification purposes.

50 Present Concert Friday

A company of 50, including four soloists, a chorus of 14, and a concert orchestra, will present "Rodgers and Hammerstein Nights" at 8:15 p.m. next Friday in Memorial Coliseum.

This is the first program in the 1951-52 Central Kentucky Community Concert and Lecture Series, sponsored jointly by the University, The Lexington Public Forum, and The Central Kentucky Community Concert Association.

The first part of the program will include "Overture" from "Allegro"; "It's A Grand Night for Singing," and "It Might As Well Be Spring," from "State Fair"; "Suite," from "Oklahoma"; and "June Is Bustin' Out All Over," "If I Loved You," "When I Marry Mr. Snow," "You'll Never Walk Alone," and "Soliloquy," from "Carousel."

Included in the second portion of the program will be "March of the Siamese Children," "I Whistle A Happy Tune," and "Hello, Young Lovers," from "The King and I"; "A Wonderful Guy," "Younger Than Springtime," "There Is Nothin' Like A Dame," "Bali Ha'i," and "Some Enchanted Evening," from "South Pacific"; "Oh, What A Beautiful Morning," "Surrey With The Fringe On Top," "Out of My Dreams," "People Will Say We're In Love," and "Oklahoma," from "Oklahoma."

Crane Calder, who has been the choral arranger and conductor of all Rodgers and Hammerstein symphonic programs touring the country since 1948, will conduct the orchestra.

Students will be admitted on presentation of student identification cards.

University Now Offers Beginning Hebrew Class

Elementary Hebrew is being offered at the University possibly for the first time in this century, according to Dr. Jonah W. D. Skiles, head of the Department of Ancient Languages. Dr. Skiles stated that the University is one of the few, if any, non-theological schools in the South that offers a course in the Hebrew language.

Sixteen members are in the class, taught by Rabbi William Franklin of the Temple Ohaba Zion.

Rabbi Franklin was graduated from Yeshiva College in New York City after an earlier education in Vienna. He received his Rabbinic from the Rabbi Isaac Elchanan Theological Seminary in New York City.

Commenting on the new course which was made possible by a gift from Herschel Weil, Lexington farm owner, Dr. Skiles said, "I hope this class will be the beginning of a full program of Hebrew study."

An early University catalog listed Hebrew in the English Department under Oriental Studies. It stated, for the special benefit of students of Comparative Philology, a course in elementary Sanskrit or elementary Hebrew is offered."

At the turn of the century it was believed that the English language had Hebrew roots. This was the reason it was offered in the English Department. Dr. Skiles said he seriously doubted if the course was actually given.

Fan's Heads Turned By Sugar Overdose

UK football fans appear just a little stunned after the events of the past two weekends. Of course, they're hardly alone in this; the majority of coaches and sportswriters have the same feeling.

We'll let you rely on the football experts for the precise explanations of the Mississippi defeat. Somehow we just can't get excited over the statistical victories they keep creating for the Wildcats. The real heart of the situation, we think, is that perhaps University supporters, still tasting last season's Sugar Bowl dessert, were expecting a little too much from a team which lost almost all of its starting linemen from last year. This, and not tons of statistical data on first downs, yards gained rushing, and the like, is what the fan should consider in evaluating last week's defeat.

Reams of copy have already been written concerning the losses and we don't intend to add more to the stack here. It looks like a good time for us, the spectators, to get our noses out of that empty Sugar Bowl and start thinking in terms of the '51 season. In fact, the only story we want even to hear, much less write, along this line is the one describing the Wildcats' comeback.

Saturday, the Weatherman says, will be a nice day. We think so, too.

Students Have Interest In Proposed UK Budget

Students have taken little or no interest in the budget proposal released last week by President Donovan. The majority seem to think the budget, admittedly not the most interesting reading material available, would not effect them enough to justify the effort required to study it. This is certainly not the case.

Every student at the University will feel the effects of a failure of the State Legislature to approve the requested increase. Dr. Donovan, in outlining the budget, stated that if the increases were not approved the only way that the University could balance its budget was to drop approximately 200 faculty and staff members. Students would feel the effect of this drop in fewer available courses and larger classes.

It is expected that most of the reduction, if it is necessary, will be accomplished by failure to fill vacancies when they occur, and that faculty and staff members of long standing will not have to be dropped. However, losses of more experienced faculty members may come as a result of the University being unable to keep its salaries in line with the rising cost of living. In terms of purchasing power, the present employees of the University do not receive as high a salary as did those of 1940-41. Businesses and other universities have increased their salaries and may be expected to get many of UK's more promising faculty members if salaries here are not increased.

The whole matter can be summed up neatly by this statement made recently by President Donovan: "The quality and character of the education students receive is dependent upon the budget received by the University."

SGA Dance Is Successful

SGA has received considerable criticism from the Kernel in the past, so it seems only fair that they be given credit for a job well-done last weekend.

The SGA sponsored dance, while it did not attract all of the student body, did appeal to enough students to mark it as one of the few successes in the campus-wide activity field. Although the dance fell somewhat short of a financial success, it did, we believe, achieve its primary objective of increasing school spirit.

We hope that SGA will feel that the results of this first dance merit the continuance of the all-campus dance. The only thing that appears to be lacking for even more successful dances is the enlargement of the SUB Ballroom.

Top Egyptian Social Worker Is Now Modest UK Student

By David Lowenstein

Abdel Monem Nour is an unassuming man with piercing eyes and a high forehead. He is one of the two Egyptian students now studying at UK.

But behind his modest manner is a record of achievement remarkable for a man just over thirty years of age. The son of an Egyptian professor in Cairo, young Abdel early became conscious of the need for social workers in Egypt. As he put it, "Poverty, disease, ignorance, they are all tied together."

After studying social work in Cairo for several years, he was ready to do his share in alleviating the suffering of Egypt's poor. In 1943, Abdel Nour launched a new phase in Egypt's war against disease. He called it "medical social work."

From a struggling start, his department grew to twenty sections scattered in hospitals throughout Egypt. Before Mr. Nour left his country last year, he had risen to the post of Chief of medical social work.

One of 15 Egyptian Students
It was in September 1950 that Mr. Nour came to the United States. He was selected as one of 15 Egyptians to study in this country. Their funds were provided for by The Cooperative United States Education Foundation for Egypt.

Mr. Nour arrived in New York on Sept. 13, a fact that he still regards with suspicion. When asked about his first impressions of the "American way of life," the former chief of medical work adjusted his horn-rimmed glasses and with a knowing smile began:

"The first thing that attracted my attention was the great number of running people. I had never seen anything quite like it. No one looked as though he had the slightest idea where he was headed."

"Get A Sub"
"By standing in the middle of the sidewalk, I stopped someone long enough to ask directions. All I got for my trouble was quick 'get a sub.' Having never heard of a sub, let alone seen one, I was baffled. There were none on the streets, but before my stay in New York was over I knew all about subs."

"One of my most annoying problems in America was trying to order food. The only thing I knew how to ask for was fried eggs, so for several days I lived on eggs—fried ones. I remember the waitress would yell, 'Up or over?' My answer was always, 'Yes.'"

"But in time I graduated to the automat. It became quite a game of suspense for me to find what my money had purchased. Sometimes there would be something behind the little glass door and sometimes there wasn't anything there at all. I must have broke even with the law of averages."

One Fault To Football

When asked what he liked best about America, Nour replied, "The people, the freedom, and the cigarettes."

"American football has only one fault," Mr. Nour continued, "You don't use your feet."

Turning to his phonograph, he switched on an Egyptian record. "One like you might hear in any Cairo cafe." It was "The Wedding of the Bedouin," a symphony of clapping hands, piping flutes, and twanging dulcimers. Mr. Nour explained that he played the lute and had also written the lyrics for several popular Egyptian songs.

As all interviews must, this one got around to the world drama and Egypt's role. The phonograph was turned off and Mr. Nour, the musician, became Mr. Nour, the social worker.

UN Only Peace Hope
In reply to questions on the Suez Canal problem, he stated, "It isn't any more just for Britain to partition Egypt than for Russia to do the same thing in Korea."

When asked about the United Nations Mr. Nour was deliberate in his answer. "The UN is our only hope for world peace," he said. "What it is doing in Korea is right. We must back up its decisions. We cannot afford the disaster of another world war."

In speaking of the United States he said, "Your country, in the minds of our people, is free from the tinge of colonialism that colors Britain and France. We look to America as a land interested in aiding, not exploiting us."

Received Master's At UL

Mr. Nour has already received his master's degree from the University of Louisville and hopes to have his doctorate in social work from UK by this spring. Immediately after receiving his degree he plans to return to Egypt where he will teach in either Cairo or Alexandria.

Abdel Nour is further proof of the value of the student exchange program. We may be sure that when he returns to Egypt, he will be better equipped to fight his old enemies, poverty, disease, and ignorance.

Rue Elected By Debaters

The University Debating Club last week elected officers and planned its program for the coming year.

Those elected were Ed Rue, president, and Barbara Lake, secretary.

Plans for the semester include the Tau Kappa Alpha regional conference at the University of Cincinnati, Saturday, November 10; the State Debating Tournament, in which the students debate with various other Kentucky colleges; the Dixie Tourney at Charlotte, North Carolina; the Novice Tourney at Purdue University; the National Tau Kappa Alpha conference at Cleveland, Ohio; and possibly an extended trip through the Eastern United States in the early spring.

Also discussed during the meeting were two questions, "Resolved: the Federal Government should adopt a permanent program for wage and price control," and "How can we as a nation improve our ethical and moral conduct?"

Anyone who wishes to try out for the Debating team should contact Dr. Gifford Blyton, Room 137, Fine Arts Building.

Hathaway To Speak To Engineering Group

Gail A. Hathaway, president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, will address the all-engineering assembly, to be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at Memorial Hall.

Student 'Body' Gets Relaxation At Informal Sweater Swings

By Marilyn Kilgus

Before anyone calls loudly for more student get-togethers, he should present himself at the Student Union at 8 p.m. on any Tuesday night, for attendance at the weekly sweater swing, held in the ball room. No complaints can be registered about this informal dance, designed especially for relaxation and activity of the student "body." It's a good way to get acquainted with the people who share your own ball room.

Pep rallies, produced and directed by Suky, are next thing in excitement to the ball game which follows. Suky manages an "on stage, everybody" tone—with torch parades, personal appearances of coaches and players, cheers, and snake dances through Main Street. Always the dramatic!

Editor's Mail

Says Greeks Get Too Much Kernel Space

Dear Editor:

Before continuing any further I would like to make it perfectly clear that I am fully conscious of the knowledge that each fall semester the Kernel is headed by a comparatively new and inexperienced staff. Certainly each student should make allowances for any fault they may find in their newspaper at the beginning of the semester. No one can be absolutely perfect.

But after seeing last week's issue there are a few things I would like to say in reference to the handling of certain news items. In the first place the University is a rather large place and is able to make a large quantity of news available to the Kernel. This being the fact, I see no reason why practically one entire page should be wasted on a scrambled mass of names of the new pledges. Names no one bothers to read anyway.

And since it is all too well known how important the Greeks are, and how much they have done for UK, I see no reason for the Kernel to continue to waste time and effort on them.

It is my sincere hope that in the future, the Kernel will be able to issue a paper that is worthy of its University and void of such wasted reading matter.

Unfortunate Independent

Dr. Jansen To Lecture In Turkey

Dr. William H. Jansen, assistant professor of English at UK, will serve as visiting lecturer at the University of Ankara, Turkey, for the next 10 months.

While in Ankara, Dr. Jansen will teach courses in American folklore, Shakespeare, and American history. He will also direct graduate research in Turkish folklore.

Dr. Jansen plans to do research in European folklore at the Turkish National Library in Istanbul during the midwinter vacation, which lasts two months in Turkish universities.

The visiting professorship was made available to Dr. Jansen through the Fulbright program.

The Community Concert-Lecture Series — most pleasant way to go highbrow! The first program, to be presented October 12, will be a "Rogers and Hammerstein Nights" presentation, made up of an orchestra, chorus, and four soloists which will literally fill the coliseum with music from the operettas of the famous team. Through attendance at such concerts, U.K. goes cosmopolitan.

Many are the assets at the University for the improvement of the physical. We have all accepted this as our due from a college interested in the fully-developed man. Yet, even in our acceptance, we lack the "follow-up" on the specific favors offered us. The University pool waits, in all its liquid splendor, and few there be of the enrollment, who visit there to cool their feet and temper their muscle. With such an institution at diving dis-

It is the element of action which will propel the "Y" this term, after preparation of extensive campaign charts at the annual "Y" retreat on the Kentucky River, Sunday, September 30. "Y" members will go on the offensive for entertainment in Lexington's hospitals, for better knowledge of Kentucky industries and schools, as well as the world's problems with such matters. The group will go all-out for real knowledge of self, and of the individual's relation to his activities. The "Y" is a good camp to join; to be in the "Y" is to be on the right side.

Suky Wants Informal Dress At Ball Game

By Emily Campbell

Suky is promoting a campaign for students to go to the afternoon football games dressed informally . . . by informally we mean skirts and sweaters and socks for girls . . . sport shirts and slacks for boys. For warm autumn days we would all be more comfortable dressed this way. Then when the snow begins to fall it is much easier to bundle up when you don't have to be all dressed up to be in style.

This campaign goes into effect for the game this Saturday. Suky believes that comfort for the students will bring more spirit to the crowd. After the game there is always plenty of time to dress before going out on a date Saturday night.

Congratulations to our eight new cheerleaders and two alternates chosen at the Suky cheerleading try-outs. Let's give all our support to Nancy Brown, KAT; Jean Hardwick, AGD; Joyce Stevens, KKG; Kay King, KAT; Bruce Pearce, AGR; Dick Trefz, SN; Bill Rice, SPE; Allen Trevis, SAE; and alternates Elmarie Lock and John Lorch, AGR.

Lances Carnival Plans Progress
Lances Carnival, one of the biggest social events of the fall, will be Oct. 19. All sponsors for Lances Queen are to meet Oct. 8, in Room 127, SUB, at 4:30 p.m., for a publicity picture. The deadline for booth entries for the carnival is also Oct. 8. Entries may be submitted to Fred Davis, president of Lances. The informal dance, which will follow the carnival, will be held in the Ballroom of the SUB from 9-12:30. Clyde Trask and his orchestra will play for the dance and girls will be given late permissions.

Alpha Tau Omega Initiates
Alpha Tau Omega recently initiated the following men: Tom Fillion, Ted Darlington, Frank Morris, Charles Franklin, and Jack Crawford.

Pershing Rifles, national professional military fraternity elected the following officers: Scotty Griffith, Captain; Tracy H. Ellsworth, 1st Lt., executive officer; George K. Fisher, second lieutenant, supply; Jim McCurry, second lieutenant, publicity; Charles Dishman, second lieutenant, social; Robert McGinley, second lieutenant, finance; and Dan Midkiff, first sergeant.

Second Bid Day Announced
Panhellenic Council has announced that from now until Nov. 1, sororities may schedule parties for delayed rush. Second bid day will be Nov. 1. The Panhellenic Council will present all of the new pledges to the faculty on Nov. 8, in the Ballroom.

of the SUB. Ruth Bishop, KD, has been elected vice-president of the council.

Sororities and fraternities may pick up their Kernels on Friday morning by sending one person to represent their group to the School of Journalism office.

We're sorry that last week we left out Jane Johnson's name for having pledged Alpha Xi Delta. Jane is from Bowling Green. Congratulations!

Our hats are off to SGA for the wonderful dance they sponsored last week at the SUB. The idea of a two band dance went over big and I think this dance will be rated as one of the best dances this University has ever had. We hope, SGA, that this dance will warrant your sponsoring another such one soon!

Vogue Offers Paris Vacation

A year's job with Vogue, with six months in Paris and six months in New York, is the first prize in Vogue's Prix de Paris, announced this week by the magazine.

The Prix de Paris is Vogue's annual career contest for senior women working toward a bachelor's degree. Through the contest, Vogue discovers new talent and recruits its editorial trainees.

Four quizzes and a thesis, all based on actual editorial problems, make up the Prix de Paris. The quiz questions and the material upon which they are based appear in the Aug. 15, Sept. 15, Oct. 15, and Nov. 15 issues of the magazine. Those who satisfactorily answer the series of four quizzes will be eligible to write a paper on one of the thesis topics which will appear in the Feb. 1 issue of Vogue.

A board of editors will judge the contest, which is based on writing ability, grasp of subject matter, general intelligence, originality, and demonstration of special talents.

The second prize is a six month's job with Vogue in the New York office. The honorable mention awards of $25 each and top consideration for jobs with Conde Nast Publications are also offered.

Enrollment forms and more information about the Prix de Paris may be obtained from Vogue's Prix de Paris Director, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, New York.

Paris Fashions Becoming Vogue On UK Campus

The latest Paris fashions which have been translated by American manufacturers for college girls and their college budget are fast becoming popular on this campus.

Among these Paris fashions are Desse's backward-moving Bluebird line, Balenciaga's fitted-front, loose-back coat silhouette, and Dior's martingales (half-belts placed high across the back of suits and coats).

College girls can go fur coatless this year and be right in style. The new cloth coat can fall into a four part story—the fitted coat (big collar, big skirt, bright lining); the wrap coat huge shawl collar (no buttons in sight—only for the very sophisticated); the little barrel coat (a coat which ends just at the hips, has curved sleeves, is made of a furry fabric, and worn best over slim skirts); and the box coat (softer and prettier version of the box silhouette that every college girl agrees never goes out of style).

One of the best ways to shine in the dark or any time after five is to wear an evening dress and jacket made of blazing red velvet. An outfit which is versatile for evening wear is a felt skirt which can be worn with a variety of changes made in the outfit, according to the blouse you wear. The new unbelievable color of shocking pink makes a good looking outfit when your felt skirt is made of this color.

To dress up any evening dress or date dress a touch of mink is just the thing. Since cloth coats are in good style this year, muffs of fur add glamour to a plain but sophisticated outfit.

Wesley Foundation To Sponsor Hayride

The regular Sunday supper will be held at 5:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church. A program will follow.

CLAM

Fresh out of Bivalve, N. J., he arrived on the campus all bug-eyed and his big mouth hanging open. He was immediately sucked into a "shell game" and found himself making all the quick-trick cigarette tests. But his native instinct told him that such an important item as cigarette mildness couldn't be tossed off lightly. Millions of smokers everywhere have discovered, too, that there's but one true test of mildness.

It's the sensible test...the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke...on a pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

The contest is open to girls between the ages of 19 and 25, inclusive, who were born in a cotton-producing state and have never been married. To be eligible, girls must be at least 5 feet 5 inches tall.

Chemistry Fraternity Will Hold Smoker

Alpha Gamma Chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma, professional chemical fraternity, will initiate its year's plans with a "get-acquainted Smoker" on Monday, Oct. 15, in the SUB.

All those students eligible for membership will be contacted by members during the next two weeks. Pledging ceremonies will be held this month, with initiation taking place later in the semester.

The object of the fraternity is to promote and aid fellow chemists in the attainment of their goals both prior to and after graduation. At present, there are 45 other collegiate chapters and 29 professional sections located throughout the country.

Active members of the UK staff include Dr. L. R. Dawson, Dr. Charles Barkenbus, Dr. J. R. Meadow, Prof. J. R. Mitchell, Dr. W. F. Wagner, Dr. J. W. Drennan, and R. M. Bayer.

Some of the projects of Alpha Chi Sigma are the cartoon posters on display in the various laboratories depicting what happens to careless chemists, safety films, and a program in the spring given in connection with the American Chemical Society.

Also offered by AXE, are "help sections" for freshman students. Active members of the fraternity donate an hour or so per week to help those students needing aid.

The fraternity eventually plans to build a chapter house on campus. A highlight of the year's events is the annual picnic held each spring.

Students interested in more information about the Alpha Chi Sigma should contact Gayle Warner, Dr. William Wagner, advisor, or any of member of the local chapter.

Lexingtonian Names Mystery Song Title

Blonde and attractive Mrs. D. C. Kemper, 1401 Audubon Avenue, is not the kind of woman to get excited over a kitchen stove.

Mrs. Kemper, secretary of the Teacher Placement Bureau, was as-tounded Sunday evening when a phone call from New York informed her that she had been chosen as a contestant on the "Stop the Music" show.

Mrs. Kemper had her radio tuned on to the program and successfully identified the mystery song, "The Morning Side of the Mountain." The prizes she received were a gas range and 500 cigarettes.

These prizes present somewhat of a problem. Since Mrs. Kemper already has a kitchen stove in good condition, she is considering the possibility of placing it in the living room as a conversation piece. Disposition of 500 cigarettes is something else. Mrs. Kemper smokes, but the prize cigarettes are not her brand.

Currently it is cause for amused comment with Mrs. Kemper and her friends that she is tone-deaf. She knew only one other tune on the program. That was "Flow Gently Sweet Afton." Just goes to show, she says, that there are all kinds of handicaps, but none are too great for a winner.

Holman Hamilton Writes Book On Zachary Taylor

By James Turley

Holman Hamilton, a graduate student in the University, has recently completed a book which he entitled, "Zachary Taylor, Soldier in the White House." This is his second biographical work dealing with "Old Rough and Ready." The first volume concerned the pre-presidential career of Taylor.

The new book will be officially published Monday by Bobbs-Merrill and Company of Indianapolis. The critics haven't had a chance to review the second volume, but here is what some of them said about the first one:

"Able fills another gap in the biographical record of the Middle Period of American history. Mr. Hamilton has painted a clear picture of army life on the advancing frontier."—N.Y. Times Book Review.

"Restores the portrait of 'Old Zack' in all its strong color and homespun texture."—Newsweek.

"Excellent."—The New Yorker.

Worked In Fort Wayne

A graduate of Williamstown college, Williamstown, Mass., Hamilton makes his home in Fort Wayne, Ind. After graduation, Hamilton went to work for the Fort Wayne Journal, as a reporter. In two years he became chief editorial writer and won the American Legion award for having the best prepared editorial page in Indiana.

Why did he choose UK as the place to get his Doctor's degree in history?

"The people of Kentucky," Hamilton said, "have a natural, friendly, and humorous approach to life is one reason. Another is the history department's standing and its capable personnel."

Became Interested In Taylor

It was while working on the Fort Wayne Journal that Hamilton became interested in the Civil War, and whether or not it could have been prevented. He chose Zachary Taylor for his biographical work because of "Zack's central position" in American history.

"I felt that Taylor's position in history had not been properly emphasized. He was overshadowed by the 'Great Debate.'"

It took nearly a decade for Hamilton to complete the book, working part time. He did research work at Lexington, Louisville and Frankfort.

Hamilton said he has no plans for writing another book at the present time because of his studies, unless his dissertation for his doctor's degree develops into one.

Prof. Martin Tells Of Visit To Turkey

By Martha Tarpley

Turkey, a land of turkish towers and turkish baths to many Americans, was visited this summer by Prof. J. W. Martin, distinguished professor of economics in the UK College of Commerce.

Prof. Martin, who is also head of the Bureau of Business Research, acted as financial management advisor to the ministry of finance in Turkey during his stay. This department is in charge of the tax collections and other duties similar to the U.S. Department of Revenue.

The UK professor, who arrived by plane in Istanbul on Feb. 14, found that present day Turkey is one of the most progressive countries of the Middle East. He said that the government is intensely interested in improving its democratic society, and for this reason they ask for advisors from Britain and the United States to aid them in their internal affairs.

Dr. Martin went on to say that although Turkey is primarily agricultural, the majority of the Turks wear western garb, instead of the traditional turkish costume. He said that the women were quite extreme styles and follow closely such magazines as Vogue and Harper's Bazaar.

Dr. Martin also stated that to appear beautiful, a Turkish woman must be rather on the plump side. He told of one incident when a little Turkish girl's mother forbade her to play with the American children because they ran so much that she was afraid her daughter would never gain any weight.

During Prof. Martin's six-month visit, he had the opportunity to tour much of the country and attend the national holiday celebrations held on May 19. These celebrations are a time for many events of athletic skill, and precision, of which the Turks are very fond.

Dr. Martin left Istanbul on the 14th of August and, after a short visit in Western Europe, returned to the United States by plane.

Jest Knappin'

By Paul Knapp

With the situation being the way it is, how can anybody admit that he's not a pessimist. But thank the Devil for this perfect definition of the almost extinct optimist.

An optimist is a man of seventy who marries a gal of 25 and starts looking for a house—near a school.

Man: "I know a man who has been married for forty years and spends every evening at home."
 Wife: "That's what I call real love."

Man: "The doctors call it paralysis."
 Professor: "I will not begin today's lecture until the room settles down."
 Voice from the rear: "Go home and sleep it off."

Mother: "Didn't I tell you not to go out with perfect strangers?"
 Daughter: "But he isn't perfect, Mother."

"Had tough luck in court this morning."
 "How's that?"
 "Arrested for kissing a woman, then the judge saw the woman, fined me ten dollars more for being drunk."

"Goodness, George, this isn't our baby."
 "Shut up, it's a better carriage."

A mother had been lecturing her small son, stressing that we are in this world to help others. He considered this, then asked somberly: "What are the others here for?"

Confucius say: "A girl who does everything under the sun is likely to get her hide tanned."

Judge: "Have you ever earned a dollar in your life?"
 Prisoner: "Yes, Your Honor, I voted for you in the last election."

"Won't you join me in a cup of coffee?"
 "Sure. You get in first."

Old Lady: "Are you really content to spend your life walking around begging?"
 Retired Student: "No, lady, many's the time I wish I had a car."

"What are you taking for your cold?"
 "Make me an offer."

The modern wallflower is the girl who dances all the dances all the time.

THE DU PONT DIGEST

M.E.'s AT DU PONT
 Diversity of chemical products spells opportunity for the mechanical engineer

Students of mechanical engineering sometimes assume there is little opportunity for them in the chemical industry. In fields where products are made in more or less standardized equipment, this may be so.

But in a company like Du Pont which operates in many fields of industrial chemistry—where products are made at pressures over 15,000 pounds per square inch as well as in vacua low as two millimeters of mercury—mechanical engineers are in heavy demand.

What jobs do they fill at Du Pont? Literally hundreds, not including the normal run of mechanical engineering work such as design of standard equipment, scaling up from blueprints, etc.

For example, here are some of the problems encountered in the manufacture of nylon yarn alone:

1. Nylon polymer, a poor thermal conductor, is melted by a contact surface grid at 550°F. The polymer decomposes slowly at this temperature, and there is a major heat-transfer problem. Many types of melting grids had to be designed before one proved satisfactory.

2. The molten polymer is pumped to spinnerets under pressures over 1000 pounds per square inch. With nylon as the only lubricant, the pumps must operate continuously at 550°F. Specialized problems in sealing, gasketing and materials of construction are inherent in this operation.

3. The melt is forced through multiple holes (diameters of 7 to 22 thousandths of an inch) in a special alloy disc. They must be made to conform to "jeweler's specifications."

4. The emerging fibers are cooled in a specially designed "air conditioned" chimney. Precise control is essential in this critical operation.

5. The fibers are wound on spools at surface speeds around 1000 yards per minute. Design calls for constant change in speed so that there is no localized stretching or relaxation of the fiber.

6. Finally, the fiber is drawn about 400% and wound on spools traveling at 5000 feet per minute. Bearing lubrication and dynamic balance presented important design problems.

These are but a small part of the mechanical engineering problems arising in the manufacture of a single product by only one of Du Pont's ten manufacturing departments. Literally hundreds of other products, ranging all the way from cellulose sponges to metals like titanium, present similar challenges. So long as new processes continue to be sought and old processes improved, there will be important work for the hand and mind of the mechanical engineer.

Ralph C. Grubb, B.S.M.E., Tennessee '51, and Paul D. Kohl, B.S.M.E., Purdue '46, study characteristics of a super-pressure pump (75,000 p.s.i.) designed by Du Pont engineers and made in Du Pont shops.

Heat-transfer problems in the design of new fiber-spinning equipment are investigated by J. C. Whitmore, B.S.M.E., Virginia '44, M.S.M.E., Delaware '49, and L.B. Collat, B.S.M.E., Georgia Tech '50.

Uniquely designed adapter for a screw extruder under study by Ralph J. Cwoil, B.S. M.E., Purdue '49, and John F. Boulton, B.S.M.E., Purdue '41. The adapter heats, filters and forms polymer into filaments.

Babe's Average Is 56.9 For Three Games

Kentucky's Vito "Babe" Parilli, the man from down under in the T-formation operations of the Wildcat team, has attempted 86 passes in the first three games played by the Wildcats this year. Forty-nine of those passes were completed, for a percentage of 56.9. Only three of the "Babe's" tosses have found their way into enemy hands. He has registered three touchdowns against opponents for a total of eighteen points.

Depending upon the terrific toe of Dominic Pucci last year, Parilli more or less took a back seat in the kicking department. This year finds the team general carrying the load on kicking chores on top of his other duties while masterminding the team on the field. He has been forced to punt thirteen times for a total of 455 yards and an overall three game average of 35.0. None of his boots have been blocked by the opposition.

On several occasions when the forward wall failed to hold out hard charging Texans and Rebels, Parilli elected to run with the ball. On such short notices his blocking has failed to organize effectively which has hampered the "Babe" considerably. For a total of eight rushing plays, he has a net gain of -42 which leaves him with an average gain of -5.2. Compared with the two game average of -3.1 which Darrell Crawford will carry into tomorrow's game, this figure is far from bad as far as the Babe is concerned.

Parilli has been faced with the task of finding adequate receivers for his passes on occasion in the first three games. With more of the right kind of help his pass completion average would be greater than the records now indicate. Perhaps the scoring column would have jumped also.

Kentucky will be facing a light but hard charging line which will rush Parilli into showing his hand sooner than he likes. If the line can hold long enough for the "Babe" to cock that arm the ozone may be filled with passes. His duel with Tech's Crawford should be interesting from a spectators standpoint.

Cats To Play Tech Tomorrow

Kentucky Line Faces Tough Task

The Kentucky line will be bumping up against one of the biggest offensive lines in the nation when they meet the Ramblin' Wreck of Tech tomorrow. And the Tech defensive forward wall speaks for itself. SMU only scored once and the Florida Gators didn't find the range at all against the big Engineers.

The days work is cut out for the Wildcats front men. In the middle of that line will be co-captain Doug Moseley who plays both offense and defense. Moseley is defensive line backer and he has intercepted one pass from that position this year. Coach Bryant depends on the 200-pound Laverne, Ala. product for leadership in holding together the graduation riddled Wildcat machine.

Steve Meilinger, Jim Proffitt, Bill Farley, and Allen Hamilton have been seeing extensive duty as offensive ends and probably will carry the load of the wingmen tomorrow. Both Farley and Hamilton are converted backfield men but have looked good at the new positions. Hamilton has caught six passes for 104 yards gained but some of the catches were from a halfback position. Farley has caught three passes for 38 yards and has scored one touchdown.

Meilinger Is Leading Receiver
Meilinger, a sophomore, leads the ends in both number of passes accepted and yards gained. He has grabbed 13 aeriels for 124 yards. Proffitt has caught eight tosses for 91 yards.

Bob Fry, an offensive tackle, has been moving over to the flank on defense. He played end last year but was thrown into the middle of the fight by Coach Bryant when last year's first team men graduated. George Claiborne, Ted Kim, and Meilinger have been seen also on defense along with an assortment of other players.

Fry and John Netoskie, another converted end, have been getting the starting call at offensive tackles. Chet Lukawski, Calvin Smith, and Jim Mackenzie have been doing most of the defensive work at tackle.

Gene Donaldson and John Ignarski will probably get the starting calls again at the guard positions on offense. Donaldson also plays defense. Bryant has a number of other guards he can throw into the fray at any time. Most impressive so far and most likely to see extensive service tomorrow are Bill Conde, Ray Correll, and Neil Lowry.

Behind Moseley at the center position, either John Griggs or Frank Fuller will get the call. Both men play either offense or defense.

The Kentucky line held Texas to eight first downs and Mississippi to 16 but has not given quarterback Parilli anything like adequate pass protection.

Tech Seeks Third Victory; Cats' Hunt For Road Back

Kickoff time at 2 p.m. tomorrow afternoon on Stoll Field will find the long-suffering Kentucky Wildcats ready to do battle with the Georgia Tech Yellow-Jackets, a team that has never lost one of its first three games in any season. This same Tech team was given an outside chance to place among the front-runners in the conference this year, but their first two games have caused considerable concern among other top ranking teams in the S.E.C.

Georgia Tech launched its season with an eye-opening 21-7 defeat over the highly rated Southern Methodist eleven from the Southwestern Conference. The following week the Yellow-Jackets invaded the Florida stronghold and came away with another impressive win, handling the "dark horse" Gators to a 27-0 set-back in one of the top games in the conference last Saturday.

Operating on their speed and sudden death explosiveness, the Yellow Jackets take advantage of breaks afforded them in much the same fashion as the Tennessee Volunteers operate. Theirs is the razzle-dazzle type of play that keeps the opponent on their heels throughout the game. Darrell Crawford, senior signal caller for the Yellow Jackets has a forward wall averaging 205 pounds. The speed and aggressiveness with which these boys operate enables Crawford to unload with his antics behind the line.

Cats Seek S.E.C. Win
Kentucky will be looking for its first win within the conference as well as the first victory over a foe of major caliber. After their opening game victory over lightly regarded Tennessee Tech, Kentucky has suffered two heart-breaking defeats at the hands of hard charging Texas and the win-hungry Ole Miss Rebels from the S.E.C. Two losses in a row have left the Wildcats dazed and bewildered and as two of the Kentucky stalwarts have expressed it, "We have to win this one, we just have to." Bill Conde, guard and line backer, and Steve Meilinger, first string end, expressed the sentiments of the entire team when they summed it up in those short terms.

Approximately 35,000 fans will sit in on this S.E.C. headliner tomorrow and will undoubtedly be treated to a wide open ball game from start to finish. Babe Parilli, operating the Kentucky team from the T-formation will be opposing one of the best in the business when he clashes with the able Darrell Crawford, another smart T quarterback who keeps his team charging at all times. This could be a make or break proposition for the Kentucky team. If they take charge from the outset, they could regain some of that last year prestige. If they lose their third one in a row, the season may be one of the worst for a Kentucky eleven since Paul Bryant came to the campus with a reputation for building winning teams on the gridiron.

Bryant Warns Fans
At the beginning of the season Bryant warned loyal fans to expect a rather dull showing on occasions. With the line-up riddled by graduation, replacements had to come from the ranks of the sophomores and juniors. Some of these boys have done remarkably well in the first three games the Wildcats have played, while others have shown promise on occasions and disappointment at other times. Fumbles and over eagerness have been the keynote to the two Kentucky defeats. The pressure will be on the boys once more and it will be interesting to note the way in which they perform in tomorrow's fray.

More than likely, the game will be rated as a toss up with Georgia Tech drawing a slight nod over the discouraged Wildcats. Tech will be fighting to make it three in a row to preserve that record of having won their first three games each season since the sport was introduced at the southern school. Kentucky should be "up" for this one and fighting mad after the way they once more and it will be interesting were handled by Ole Miss. All indications point to a rough and tumble afternoon on Stoll Field tomorrow.

Fillion Tops Runners With 7.6 Rush Average

Statistics for Kentucky's three games were compiled this week and sophomore fullback Tom Fillion is top man in the rushing department with an average of 7.6 per try. His average figures from a total of 243 yards gained while carrying the ball 32 times. Although freshman halfback Max Mason has compiled an average of 8.0, he has carried the ball but eight times for a net gain of 64 yards. Harry Jones is close behind Fillion for top honors with 7.5 average gained from rushing 17 times for a total net gain of 128 yards.

Bill Leskovar and Emery Clark have each carried the ball 23 times with Leskovar averaging 4.3 on the strength of a net gain of an even 100 yards. Clark has a 2.6 average on a net gain of 60 yards. Ed Hamilton has toted the ball 13 times for 33 yards and a 2.5 average. Allen Felch saw action in the Tennessee Tech game only and carried 9 times for a 5.2 average. His total gain was 47 yards from scrimmage. Larry Jones, the only other Wildcat, to carry the ball five times or better, has an average of 4.6 on a net gain of 23 yards for five efforts.

Parilli and Bob Hardy, freshman quarterback, are the only two men on the current team that have handled the passing assignments. Parilli has a 56.9 average on 49 completions out of 86 flings. Three of his passes have been lost via the interception route. Hardy has passed eleven times with 4 completions for an average of 36.3.

Kentucky has outplayed their opponents in nearly every phase of the game.

Defensive Record Of Tech Good

Defense, the factor which Georgia Tech feared might be its weakest point in 1951, has been in the fore as the Yellow Jackets trimmed Southern Methodist and Florida.

Tech's defensive array of Sid Williams and Cecil Trainer at ends, Bill Thaden and Captain Lamar Wheat at tackles, Ray Beck and Orville Vereen at guards, George and Larry Morris as linebackers, Bobby Moorhead and Charlie Brannon at side-backs, and Jackie Rudolph at safety has been the pleasant surprise of the season to Coach Bobby Dodd.

Offensively, Tech's ground attack has been powered by junior fullback Art Ross and sophomore halfback Leon Hardeman. Ross carries a 5.1 average into the Wildcat, fray with a total gain of 87 yards. Hardeman, injured against Florida and doubtful performer this week, holds the same average with a 5.1 yard total. Regular defensive tackle Bill Thaden also was injured in the Florida tilt and is expected to be sidelined.

Darrell Crawford, senior quarterback; George Maloof, senior halfback; and Johnny Hicks, soph halfback have been especially outstanding in the Tech backfield. Soph end Dave Davis holds a 43.5 yard average on six punts.

Tech coaches feel they have linebackers to equal any in the nation. The two Morris have been hailed by Tech rooters as the finest freshman to play in the SEC since Clint Castleberry. Georgia Tech's great halfback of 1942.

The Jackets and Wildcats have met on 12 previous occasions, Tech winning six, losing five, and tying one. Last fall, Babe Parilli sparked Bear Bryant's team to a 28-14 triumph over Tech.

Swartz Undergoes Knee Operation

Dan Swartz, UK freshman basketball player, underwent a knee operation Saturday at the St. Joseph's hospital. Swartz's condition has been reported by the hospital as good, but it cannot be determined at this time how long it will be before he can begin practice.

The injury is a recurrence of an old one which happened while Swartz was playing his senior year at Owingsville High School where he made the all-state basketball team in the '49-'50, and the '50-'51 seasons. Swartz is 6-4 and played center for Owingsville.

Spiked Shoes Group Picks Jay Wallace

Jay Wallace, star halfmiler on Coach Seaton's track team, has been elected president of the UK Spiked Shoes Society. He is also president of the Southeastern Conference Spiked Shoe Society.

Crawford Hits 11 Out Of 20 In Two Games

The Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets have found a capable T-quarterback in the person of Darrell Crawford who will go up against one of the best in the business when he competes with Kentucky's Vito Parilli tomorrow on Stoll Field. In the two games played by the Jackets this season, Crawford has attempted 20 passes and completed eleven for a passes and completed eleven. He has had one interception.

Crawford has failed to shine in the running department this year and has a record of a net gain of -25 yards.

The general from Georgia Tech has two able punters in his ranks in the persons of Dave Davis and Powell Sheffer, so he has not been forced to do double duty thus far this season.

SEC Roundup

Five Major Upsets Mark Play In SEC

By Bill Podkulski

A few dreams were shattered over the week-end in gridiron clashes by five Southeastern Conference teams upsetting the favorites. On the short end of the scores were Kentucky, Alabama, Florida, Vanderbilt, and Miami.

The biggest upset was over defending SEC champion Kentucky, who lost another heartbreaker to an aroused Mississippi. The Rebels came from behind with two quick fourth-quarter touchdowns to edge the Wildcats 21-17. It was the Texas story repeated for UK who won everything but the ball game.

LSU Downs Alabama

Alabama, bidding for recognition again, fizzled out and the LSU Tigers rode to a 13-7 upset. The Tigers came through with a brilliant ball carrier in hard-running Jim Roshto. Bobby Marlow, "Bama star, broke loose for only one good gain and didn't participate in the last 14 minutes of play.

Auburn took advantage of Vanderbilt's fumbles and its own power to win a surprising 24-14 victory over Vandy. It was Auburn's first game under Coach Ralph Jordon, who took over after a disastrous 1950 season in which the team failed to win a game.

Highly regarded Miami had their dreams of another undefeated season shattered by Tulane who caught fire in the second half and rolled over the Hurricanes 21-7. Ronnie Kent, only letterman in Tulane's backfield, bulled across for two scores, and halfback Pete Clements scored the other while left-guard Tommy Comeaux took credit for the three conversions.

Jackets Shutout Gators

Scoring another great victory, after being rated as the under-dog, was Coach Bobby Dodd's Ga. Tech Yellow Jackets who stopped two-game winner Florida 27-0. Giving an outstanding showing was freshman line-backer Larry Morris who recovered a fumble and intercepted a pass to open the way for Tech Quarterback Darrell Crawford's passing and stubby Glenn Turner's running contributed to Georgia Tech's success.

Unpredictable Georgia shellacked North Carolina 28-6. Quarterback Zeke Bratkowski's passing brought the Bulldogs roaring from behind in the final period, scoring three times in eight minutes to turn the game into a rout.

Maroon Errors Give Vols Win

In an unimpressive victory, Tennessee conquered Mississippi State 14-0 early in the game. Capitalizing on a fumble and a blocked kick, the Volunteers punched over both TD's in the first five minutes of play.

These are the beginnings of SEC results that give warning there will be havoc in the future.

Southeastern Conference gridders wander outside of the league again this week to prove their power in other sections.

Top honors for game of the week pit Tennessee against undefeated Duke in Knoxville. The Vols may play rough with Duke in their effort to regain the No. 1 spot in the nation. Tennessee fell down to third place after their unimpressive tilt last week.

Tulane Meets Baylor

Seeking second best is Baylor of the Southwestern Conference against Tulane in New Orleans. Another first-rater takes place in Baton Rouge where LSU meets Rice.

Alabama plays Vanderbilt at Nashville and Auburn is up against Wofford tonight in Montgomery. The two dark-horse teams, Georgia and Mississippi clash in Starkville. Kentucky in 17th place and Georgia Tech in 11th place, on the recent AP pick, will battle it out in Lexington. Ole Miss heads east to play Boston College tonight and Florida will travel to Los Angeles to meet little Loyola.

UK Basketball Schedule Lists 11 Home Games

Kentucky's NCAA basketball champions open a 24-game schedule at Memorial Coliseum on Dec. 8 as the Washington and Lee Generals furnish the opposition after a lapse of eleven years between the hardwood rivalry of the two schools. The teams have met 11 times with Kentucky emerging the victor in 10 of those contests. Since Adolph Rupp took over the helm at Kentucky in 1930 his teams have never been defeated by the Generals.

Newcomers to this year's schedule are U.C.L.A., who will travel all the way from the west coast to meet the Cats in Lexington, and Minnesota, who will play Kentucky on their home court.

To Play In Sugar Bowl

Sandwiched between the Dec. 26 and Jan. 2 dates the Wildcats will participate in the annual Sugar Bowl Tournament at New Orleans again this year. This marks the fourth successive year that the Rupp Raiders will have played in the colorful event.

Last year's quintet won 32 games while bowing to the opposition only twice. This record includes two games in the Sugar Bowl Tournament, four SEC contests, a post season game with Loyola of Chicago, and four hard fought games which climaxed the NCAA championship tournament.

40 Players On Roster Native Sons

Kentucky high school football is on the march.

Close observers of the sport will tell you the quality of high school football started improving at the same time Paul Bryant showed up at UK some six years ago as head coach. Until then Kentucky was a basketball state, but when Bryant put the Wildcats on a winning basis, football all over the commonwealth perked up.

Allen Thinks More Interest

Assistant Coach Eral Allen thinks that is the chief reason for the advancement of the game. "The kids are more interested now than they used to be," he said. "Another reason," he continued, "is that we now have more young coaches who take more interest in the game."

Five years ago there were 80 high schools supporting football; now there are 108. These schools are now producing more good college prospects than ever.

One need only look at the Wildcats' roster to see this. Forty Kentuckians are listed on the varsity and reserve rosters.

The Western Kentucky Conference leads all other leagues with 11 representatives. The Central Kentucky Conference is second with eight. The Cumberland Valley Conference and the Northeastern Kentucky Conference are the only other leagues with more than two.

Louisville Claims Eleven
Louisville, of course, is the most productive city. Eleven of her native sons are now Wildcats.

Coach Allen said UK prefers Kentucky boys to out state prospects because they have a greater desire

Tilley Tallies

Barbs Thrown At Rupp By St. John 'News' Man

By Chuck Tilley

The St. John's News came out with an editorial Sept. 27 criticising the University of Kentucky's basketball tour of Puerto Rico in August. Barbs were thrown at Coach Rupp for objecting to rough play by the University of Puerto Rico team.

Referring to the Kentucky-St. John's game of last season and Rupp's remark the editorial said, "Bob Zawoluk probably is laughing at this latest outburst. Zeke can probably still feel Bill Spivey's gaunt elbows from the Kaintuck game of December 23 last at the 'filthy' Garden. That is the way the Baron of the Bourbon State refers to the Eighth Avenue Mecca of Sport when he loudly proclaims that 'gamblers couldn't get at our boys with a ten foot pole.' Either Rupp is in for a surprise or our information is wrong."

It looks like the News staff was either short of copy or seeks attention. It's common knowledge Big Bill is one of the cleanest participants in college basketball. If Zawoluk felt any elbows that night they were probably his own in his frantic efforts to cover the UK All-American.

As to the last quoted sentence, it doesn't require an answer. If Editor Cutter knows more about the UK team than Coach Rupp or the legal authorities who conduct bribe hearings, he's in the wrong business.

UK meets St. John's this Dec. 17 at Lexington.

The sportswriters and sportscasters who rate weekly the football teams of the nation for the Associated Press reshuffled their cards this week and hid the Kentucky Wildcats way down in position 17. Although the poll does not prove anything, it does show a definite reaction of opinion based on the preceding game.

Coach Bear Bryant summed up the loss to Mississippi when he said, "We're not working to get ready for Georgia Tech. We're working to get our self respect back."

Bryant was obviously disappointed with the play of his charges at Oxford. The Texas loss was not too hard to take since it was the first major game for many of the squad members. At Austin the team showed capabilities of playing with the best. It is not known if the excellent showing in that game influenced the outcome of the Ole Miss encounter.

It was a confident team which engaged the Rebels. They had completely outplayed powerful Texas before a partisan crowd. They were favored to defeat the Rebels by two touchdowns. Going into the fourth quarter, they had a ten point margin. Then the dice broke and Kentucky mistakes gave the game to the Rebels.

Foundamentals have been stressed by Coach Bryant in practice this week in preparation for tomorrow's game with Georgia Tech. The alert Jackets will be ready to capitalize on any Cat errors and Bryant hopes he has eliminated causes for miscues which happened last week.

If the Wildcats are to stop the Ramblin' Wreck they will have to dispense with fumbles and dropped to win for their own state university. But he quickly added another Babe Parilli wouldn't be turned down just because he was from out of the state.

Swim Team Tryouts Begin October 8

Swimming Coach Algie Reece announced that all boys interested in trying out for the swimming team should report at 4 p.m. Monday, Oct. 8, and each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday for the next two weeks at that hour. Members of last year's team are to report October 22.

Four Lettermen Returning

Coach Reece said that there are only four lettermen returning from last year's squad but that there are some promising freshmen and sophomores coming up to the varsity. The returning lettermen are Jack McDonald, Bruce Kunkul, John Taylor, and Sam Blythe. McDonald, who is now enrolled in the College of Pharmacy in Louisville, won eight points in last season's Southeastern Conference finals.

The five members of last season's freshmen team returning are John Bulluck, Harold Eaton, Dave Linkous, Ted Kinn, and Louis Karibo. Kinn and Karibo are members of the football team and won't report for practice until later in the season.

UK To Host Swim Meet

The swimming team this year will be the host team for the Southeastern Conference Swimming Championships. Coach Reece said that the Kentucky pool is ideally suited for the event.

Coach Reece urges all persons with swimming ability to come out for the team. He further comments that each will be given an opportunity to show his ability and given every chance to make the team.

Life Saving Class - Begins Monday Night

Enrollment for the senior life saving class for students and faculty members will be at the Coliseum pool Monday at 8 p.m. Practice will be from 8-10 p.m. on Monday for approximately 10 weeks.

Georgia 'Coach Of Year' Now On Staff At UK

By Marvin Poer

Assistant Coach J. D. Langley, one of the newer additions to Coach Paul Bryant's youthful coaching staff here at the university, made his home in Georgia where he posted an impressive record before joining the ranks of the Wildcats of Kentucky.

Fresh from a 19-14 victory in the Peanut Bowl at Columbus, Ga., Langley joined the UK coaching staff in June of this year. A three year hitch at Rockmart, Georgia High School was climaxed by his teams victory over the Holyoke Mass. High School gridders in the Peanut Bowl. On the strength of his record at Rockmart, Langley was made coach of the year in Georgia and was placed on his hometown Hall of Fame at Cedartown, Ga. His bowl team also won the state championship in 1950.

Named Little All-American

Prior to his coaching days at Rockmart, Langley played four years at center on the football team at Cedartown High. He participated in the first North-South all-star game in 1938. After his graduation from high school he spent one year at the Georgia Teachers College, transferred to the University of Chattanooga where he made All-Dixie in his sophomore year. In his junior year he was honored by obtaining a berth on the Little All-American team.

In 1943 Coach Langley played professional baseball with the Chattanooga Lookouts as an outfielder. The following year found Langley at Williamsport, Pa. playing first base for a class A professional baseball club. The Washington Senators purchased Langley at the end of '44.

After a short stay with the Senators he returned to Chattanooga where he had a good year at first base. He was placed on the All-Star team in the Southern League that year. Some of his teammates in the league were Gil Coan, Sal Rogovin, and Louis Aloma, now big time baseball players.

Returned to Football in 1945

Langley remained in professional baseball during the years '43, '44, and '45, then gave it up to return to coaching football for his bread and butter. His first coaching assignment was with reedon High School in Breedon, Ga. His duties at Kentucky are varied, but his chief ones are confined to work with freshmen and scouting chores.

For a man who includes fishing and painting among other hobbies, Langley has entered into a rough sport. The likeable young coach is strictly a family man. With his background and under the steady influence of Paul Bryant, he should go far in his desire to become a top-notch football coach.

WBKY Offers Practice To Students In Radio Who Broadcast Sports

WBKY, the University of Kentucky radio station, is continuing its policy this year of giving complete sports coverage to the Lexington area with emphasis on the University games.

This station is one of the few educational stations in the country which have either the opportunity or the facilities to give such extensive training in this line of broadcasting. It has paid off by producing some of the best known sports casters in this section of the country. Such names as Phil Sutterfield of WHAS, O. C. Halyard of WVLC, Jim Wilkenson of WOMI, Walter Huddleston of WKCT, and many others too numerous to mention got their start over WBKY.

The sport staff at the station this year includes Jack McGeehan and Tom Skinner, co-directors of sports activities. Jack and Tom have their own sport show every Friday night on which they give complete coverage to sports of the week and a forecast of the events to come over the week end. Both have agreed that the preparations required for such a program is a week long job which can only end 30 seconds before broadcast time. Any other way would mean eliminating news of interest to the listeners.

Broadcast All Home Games

In addition, they are responsible for getting the broadcasts of all Kentucky home games on the air. Here again is a task which any sports department will verify can't be sneezed at.

A staff of five is required to handle a football game from Stoll Field. In addition to Skinner and McGeehan, there is Paul Sudd. These three alternate at giving play by play accounts of the game, background color material, and fill information.

A new member of the staff who will begin his duties tomorrow at the Georgia Tech game is Stan Portmann, a journalism major, who will handle the statistics for the broadcast.

Another must for the broadcast is Charles Taylor, a senior in the Engineering College, who handles the remote engineering in the press box.

This doesn't include the ever watchful eye of E. G. Sulzer, WBKY director who supervises the broadcast, Camille Henderson, program director who helps plan the broadcast. Bob Freeman, chief engineer who handles the technical side from the studios, or the standby announcer who must be on hand in case of emergencies.

Pre-Game Job Complicated

All in all, it is recognized as quite a job to do as much as get the game on the air. Preliminary jobs include such time consuming tasks as getting pre-game line ups, preparing spotter boards to facilitate recognition of players in action, and accumulating background material on both schools and their players to help keep the broadcast interesting. Slightly less trouble is required for the broadcasts of out of town games. Since members of the local staff do not make the trips, it requires less pre-game planning and a smaller staff. These games are taken off a direct line from WKLY, and feature Claude Sullivan on the play by play account.

No Commercials On WBKY

Since WBKY is strictly a non-commercial station, a stand by announcer is required in the studios throughout the game to take over when commercials are given over the originating station. This announcer and the engineer are the only two staff members on duty during these games. Pre-game planning requires the supplying of adequate fill material.

WBKY plans to carry all intercollegiate sports activities of the University throughout the year. Basically the same staff will handle the broadcasts. This phase of the work is carried on in addition to the other requirements of the Radio Arts Department.

It is understandable why, after a year of this responsibility and work, a Radio Arts major is able to step into a good job anywhere and be assured of the fact that he can cope with the situation.

ID Cards Needed For Game Admittance

Students attending the football game tomorrow will be admitted only if they present picture identification cards. Cards are now being distributed at the ticket windows at the Coliseum.

Gene Donaldson

Player Of The Week

Donaldson Is Picked For Standout Play

By Don Armstrong

Said Larry Boeck of the Louisville Courier-Journal, "Guard Gene Donaldson turned in an amazing afternoon's work. The burly junior crashed through the Ole Miss line repeatedly to stop ball carriers in their own backfield."

"What's more," Boeck continued, "he had plays doled well and stopped carriers in their tracks." We can't do anything but agree with Boeck, lock, stock, and pigskin.

So, with our own Midas touch, we point a golden finger at Gene Donaldson as "Player of the Week." And what's more, we seriously doubt that anyone who paid much attention to last Saturday's game with Mississippi could name a Wildcat who tried any harder.

An All-SEC As Soph

Picked as an all-SEC guard at the close of the 1950 season, Donaldson has long been touted as a rising star on the University horizon. Last year Gene hustled his way into a starting role on Kentucky's Sugar Bowl champion team. Donaldson is the type of player who plays the game to the hilt from the time practice starts until the final gun sounds. He asks no quarter and gives none. He likes the game rough, and he does more than his share to make it rough on UK's opponents.

Gene is no glory boy, but he has a long record of honors won the hard way. He graduated from Roosevelt High in East Chicago, Ind., with the unusual record of having been an all-state choice for three years, each time at a different position. In 1946, he made it at tackle, in '47 at fullback, and in '48 at guard as a senior.

Colleges from all over the nation were after Donaldson for that reason. Among the hot pursuants were nearby Northwestern and Notre Dame. Since Donaldson is a member of the Catholic faith, most of the coaches figured he would enroll at the South Bend university.

Bryant Called Top 'Gridnapper'
But not Paul Bryant. When the smoke had cleared, the Bear had signed Donaldson to a Kentucky scholarship while a lot of other coaches wondered what had happened. At Northwestern, the athletic department had gone so far as to schedule special fraternity rushing dates to entice Donaldson to don their purple and white. Look magazine subsequently dubbed Bryant as the South's foremost gridnapper.

So Donaldson, now 21, enrolled at Kentucky in the fall of 1949 to play freshman ball for the Kittens.

Many players drop by the wayside during that first year, but you can be sure that the coaching staff had its eye on Donaldson.

Though Gene has confined his efforts to football here at the University, that was not the case during his career at Roosevelt High. He was undefeated light heavy and heavyweight wrestling champ of Indiana for three years. Donaldson also participated on the track team in high school.

Pro Football, 'No'

When asked if he plans to play professional football, Gene answers with an emphatic, "No!" When his college days are over, he plans to put his grid toes aside for some other career.

If you had never seen Donaldson before, you couldn't miss tagging him as an athlete. Built on a compact five-foot-nine frame, he's all muscle and a yard wide. He wouldn't be considered exceptionally fast for college ball, but he is quick on the charge and can keep up with the best of the linemen.

Few are the coaches who are willing to praise an undergraduate player highly, but Bryant has this to say of Donaldson, "If Gene plays the kind of game of which he is capable, he is a certain all-American." We might add that he is doing just that, and given a fair chance by football writers, Gene is due to reach the heights.

Wildkittens Lashed By Tech Bees

Coach J. D. Langley's freshman squad came up against a whirlwind offense last Saturday night on Stoll Field and as a result, the little Cats came off the field licking their wounds from a 46-13 defeat at the hands of the Georgia Tech Bees.

For the better half of the first quarter, the battle was waged in the Kentuckians half of the field with the defense holding when it had to. But with 2:35 to go in the first period, the Georgians staged a sustained drive to the 18 yard stripe. From there, Brigman went off tackle to score. Hall converted to give Tech a 7-0 lead.

Kittens Hold Halftime Lead

The Kittens, early in the 2nd quarter, recovered a Bee fumble on the 48. A penalty put the ball on the 23 and from there it was an easy matter as Black covered the 23 yards for a TD. Nestor tied the score with his conversion. Late in the 2nd quarter, the Kittens, led by Bob Hardy's passes to Charles Lancaster moved into a 13-7 lead but Nestor missed the attempt. That is the way the first half ended.

The first five minutes of the third period was a condensation of the entire second half as the Wildkittens couldn't seem to do anything right. Kentucky moved to the Tech 11 but Hardy fumbled and Tech recovered and it was the beginning of the end. On the next play, Bill Teas sprinted 89 yards for a score. Hall failed to convert and Tech had tied the lead 13-13.

Morrison Goes 81 Yards

Four minutes later Dick Witskin recovered a blocked Tech punt on the Bee's 30 yard stripe but on the next play, Morrison intercepted a Hardy pass and ran 81 yards to break the Kittens' back. Hall converted to give Tech a 19-13 lead.

The next three minutes were filled with more action than an average game includes in its entirety. Tech scored three times in this brief period. Wayne Saterback stole another Hardy pass on Kentucky's 25. Two plays later, Humphrey went off tackle to score. Hall converted and the score stood 26-13.

Just as the crowd of around a thousand had settled back in their seats, Gilliland swept right end and ran 85 yards. Hall missed the extra point as Tech led 39-13.

Georgia wasn't finished yet though, as Jim Carlen intercepted a desperation heave by Hardy on the 35 and ran to the 15. Saterback went off left tackle to score. Hall converted to give Georgia the game 46-13.

During the course of the game, Tech's center, Jim Carlen was carried off the field on a stretcher. Later reports showed the injury was only a badly pulled muscle.

The game was just a case of too much speed. Once any of the Georgia backs got through the secondary that was all of it.

independents into one. The set up is:

Division 1 — SAE, AGR, PDT, LXA, TKE, PSK.
Division 2 — DTD, SPE, PKT, ZBT, PKA.
Division 3 — SX, KA, Triangle, ATO, ASP.

Independent — Rebels, All Stars, BSU, Men's Dorm, Civil Engineers, and Newman Club.

Wildcats Lose Second In Row

For the second straight week, fumbles spelled defeat for the University of Kentucky. But there were more of them this time and the University of Mississippi upset the defending Southeastern Conference champions 21-17.

Statistics were again in favor of the Wildcats but fumbles, dropped passes, and a loose defense at crucial times allowed the Ole Miss Rebels to count more points.

Holding a 17-7 lead going into the fourth quarter with the game seemingly on ice, the Wildcats grew lax, gave the Rebels the ball twice on fumbles. Ole Miss took advantage of the generosity and pleased 20,000 hometown rooters with their first conference victory.

Last Minute Drive Fails

A Frank Merriwell finish was denied the Cats in the closing seconds of the game. Behind 17-21 with six minutes to play, All-American Babe Farilli engineered a drive from his own 22 to the Rebel eight. On fourth down with only seconds remaining, the Kentucky Babe faded to the 20, spotted Jim Proffitt, sophomore end, in the end zone and threw what appeared to be the winning marker. Kentucky followers cheered madly as the big end grabbed the ball—then sank despondently as he let the touchdown pass drop to turf.

That was the ball game—a heart-breaking defeat for the Wildcats but a thrilling upset for the underdog Rebels who were supposed to lose by two touchdowns.

LA Boots Field Goal

Kentucky jumped into a lead the first time they had the ball. Emory Clark, the halfback scabback from Carlisle, was the big factor in moving the ball from the Kentucky 46 to the Ole Miss nine. Three plays failed from there but on fourth down, with the ball on the 12, Harry Jones angled a field goal through the uprights to give the Cats a 3-0 lead.

The lead didn't last long, however.
